

Beauty the Flower

by Adithya Narayanan
Selvakumar

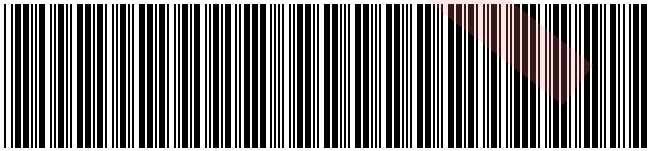

Beauty the Flower

Adithya Narayanan Selvakumar

Tikatok
Preview

Text and graphics created by author Copyright © 2012 Adithya Narayanan Selvakumar. All rights reserved.

Layout design, book template and other graphic elements Copyright © Tikatok
LLC. All rights reserved.

2 0 1 0 1 2 2 3 - 0 0 0 0 0 1 - 1 1 H

This book is dedicated to

The teachers of "Sai Spiritual Education, in Human values",

Mrs. Basham,

and

to all my other loving teachers.

Contents

A Raindrop	4
Five Angry Bees	6
The King and the Lazy Farmer	9
The Man and his Shoe Store	13
The Bully at Tigerpoint Elementary School	17
Playing a Fair Game	20

A Raindrop

One day it rained. All the raindrops were blue except one which was red.

All blue raindrops laughed at the red raindrop. The red raindrop felt very sad.

A boy named James came and picked up the red raindrop and took it to the red raindrop land in Mars. The red raindrop felt happy.

The blue raindrops should have respected and not teased the red raindrop.

Do not tease others.

Everyone is special in their own way.

We need to respect everyone.

Five Angry Bees

One day five bees made honey and then went out to play. A boy who was playing ball nearby ate all of the bees' honey and continued to play there.

The bees returned back to their nest. They were hungry and found no honey in their nest.

The bees asked the boy "Did you eat our honey?" The boy said "NO". The bees were thinking who would have eaten all their honey. Then they saw their friend squirrel and asked him about their honey. The squirrel said "While I was passing your nest to gather acorns I saw the boy ate your honey". The bees became very angry and stung the boy.

If the boy would have told the truth and apologized to the bees, the bees would not have stung the boy.

At all situations be honest.

The King and the Lazy Farmer

There once lived a king. One day he gave out jobs to some people in his kingdom.

The four farmers would take care of the cows, chickens, ducks, and horses.

The two ice cream men would deliver ice cream to the children.

The five builders would build houses.

All were doing their jobs well, except one farmer. He was lazy and was acting as if he was doing work to the king.

One day a cow went to the king and explained about the lazy farmer. So the king told the cow he would observe.

Then the king dressed as a normal man and rode a horse to the lazy farmer's house and stood far away from the house and spied him for a complete day and found out he was too lazy.

Then the king went to his palace and called the lazy farmer and spoke to him over the phone and asked him if the cows were fed. The lazy farmer said "Yes". The king got angry and sent the police to catch the lazy farmer. The lazy farmer saw the police and ran as fast as he could to escape from the police, his leg hit a rock and he fell down. He was injured badly.

Always be trustworthy and do your duty sincerely and never be lazy.

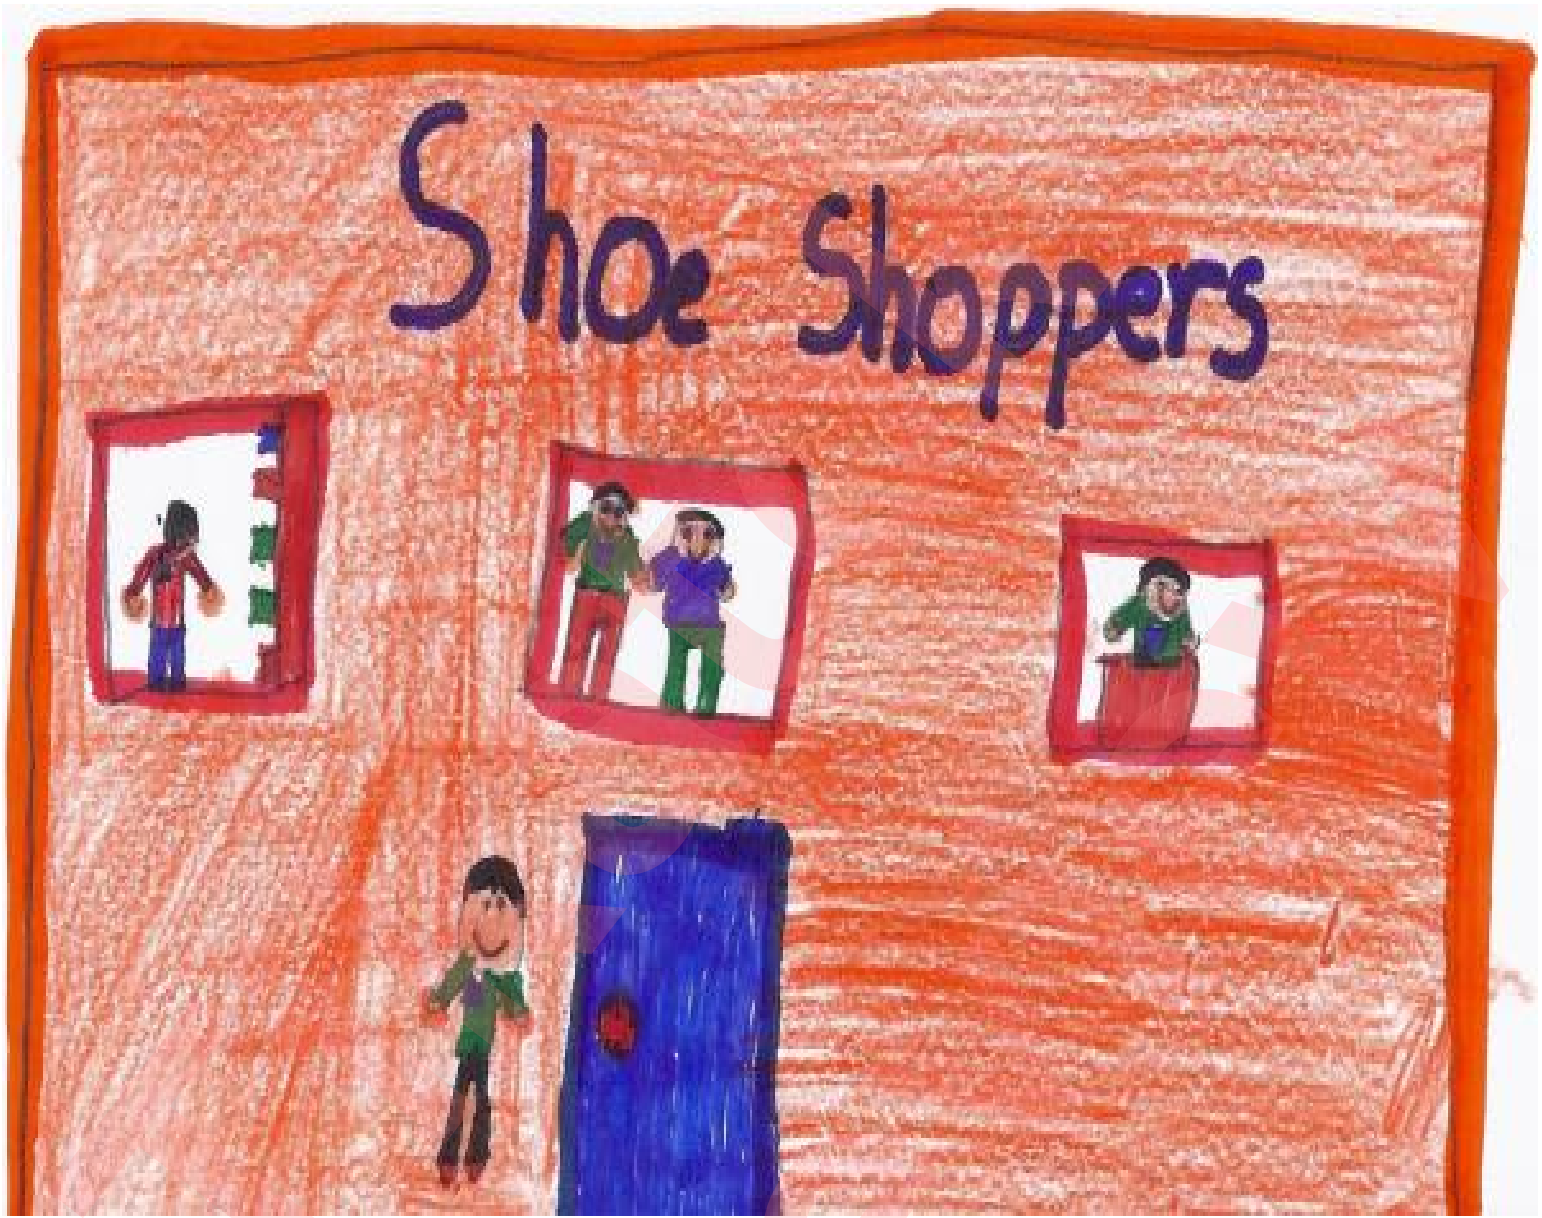

The Man and his Shoe Store

One day a man set up his shoe store named 'Shoe Shoppers'.

He was thinking if he had to pick some employees to help him in his store. He finally decided that he would do all the work so that he would save money and be rich.

He started working in his store. That night he was so tired that he went to bed without any dinner. It went on like this for three whole days.

The next morning he decided to select some employees to help him in his store. He selected three employees.

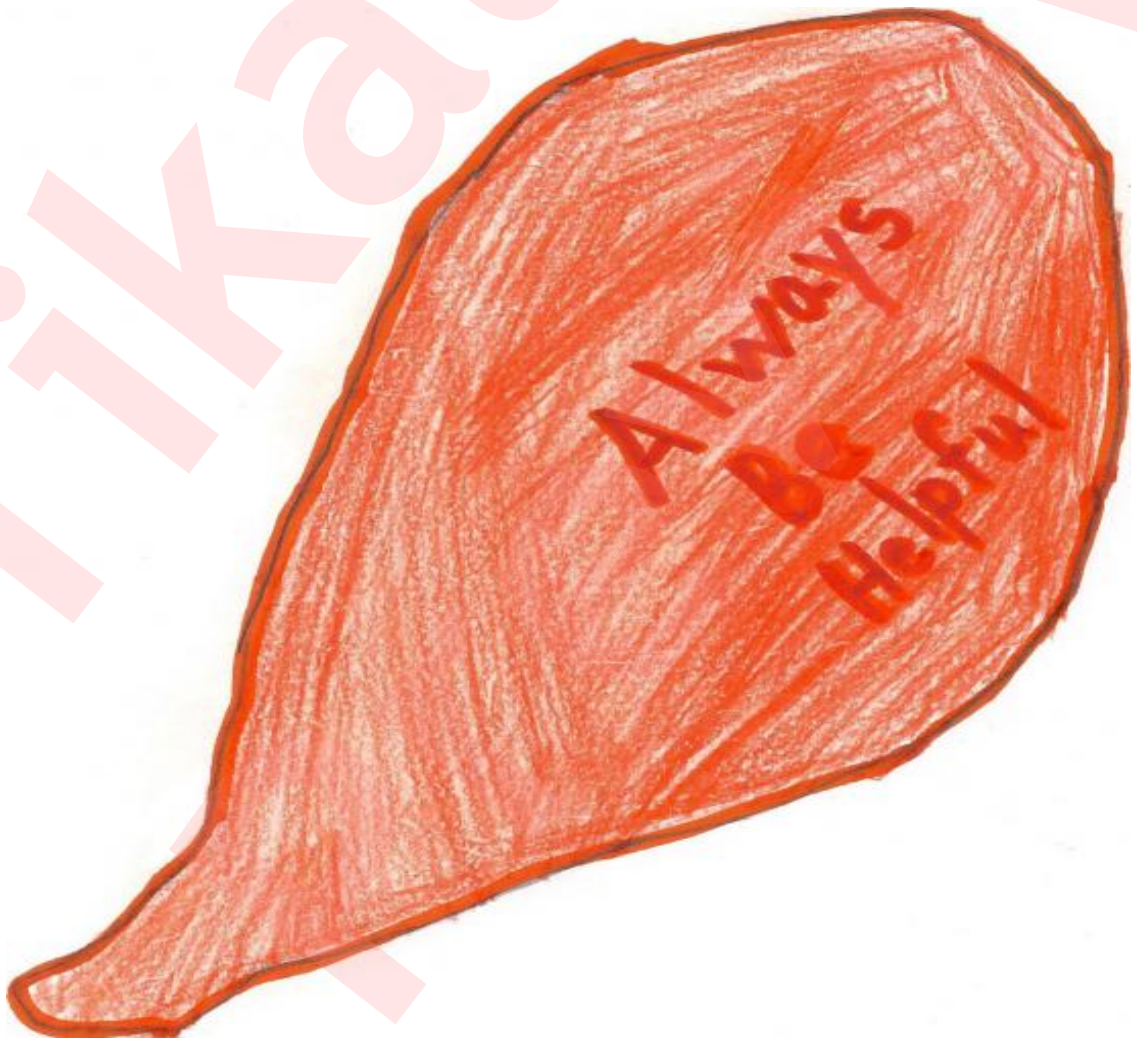

The next day the work was much easier. They all enjoyed and worked happily.

Then on one snowy winter the man said to his employees "Why don't we help the poor by donating socks and boots by going all over the town". They did that and felt much happier.

Always provide help to others and receive help from others when required and always help the poor people in need.

The Bully at Tigerpoint Elementary School

Nick was a boy at Tigerpoint Elementary School. Nick was a bully. He had a group of friends who supported him. Nick and his friends were called the Nickilions.

They used to tease others, steal others ball on the playground without permission and throw away wrappers, banana peels and juice boxes on the floor. They were not caring about others feelings and school properties.

There was a brave and bold boy named Bobby. He used to tell the aide whenever the Nickilions behaved badly. The aide would inform the principal.

The principal advised Nick and his friends several times, but in spite of that, their bad behavior continued. The principal sent a behavior note to their parents.

The parents and the principal worked together to make Nick and his friends behave well.

Always care for others feeling and always care for the environment.

Playing a Fair Game

At a soccer game there were two teams. One team played fairly and the other team did not play fairly at all. The team that played fairly was called the Lions, while the other team was called the Tigers.

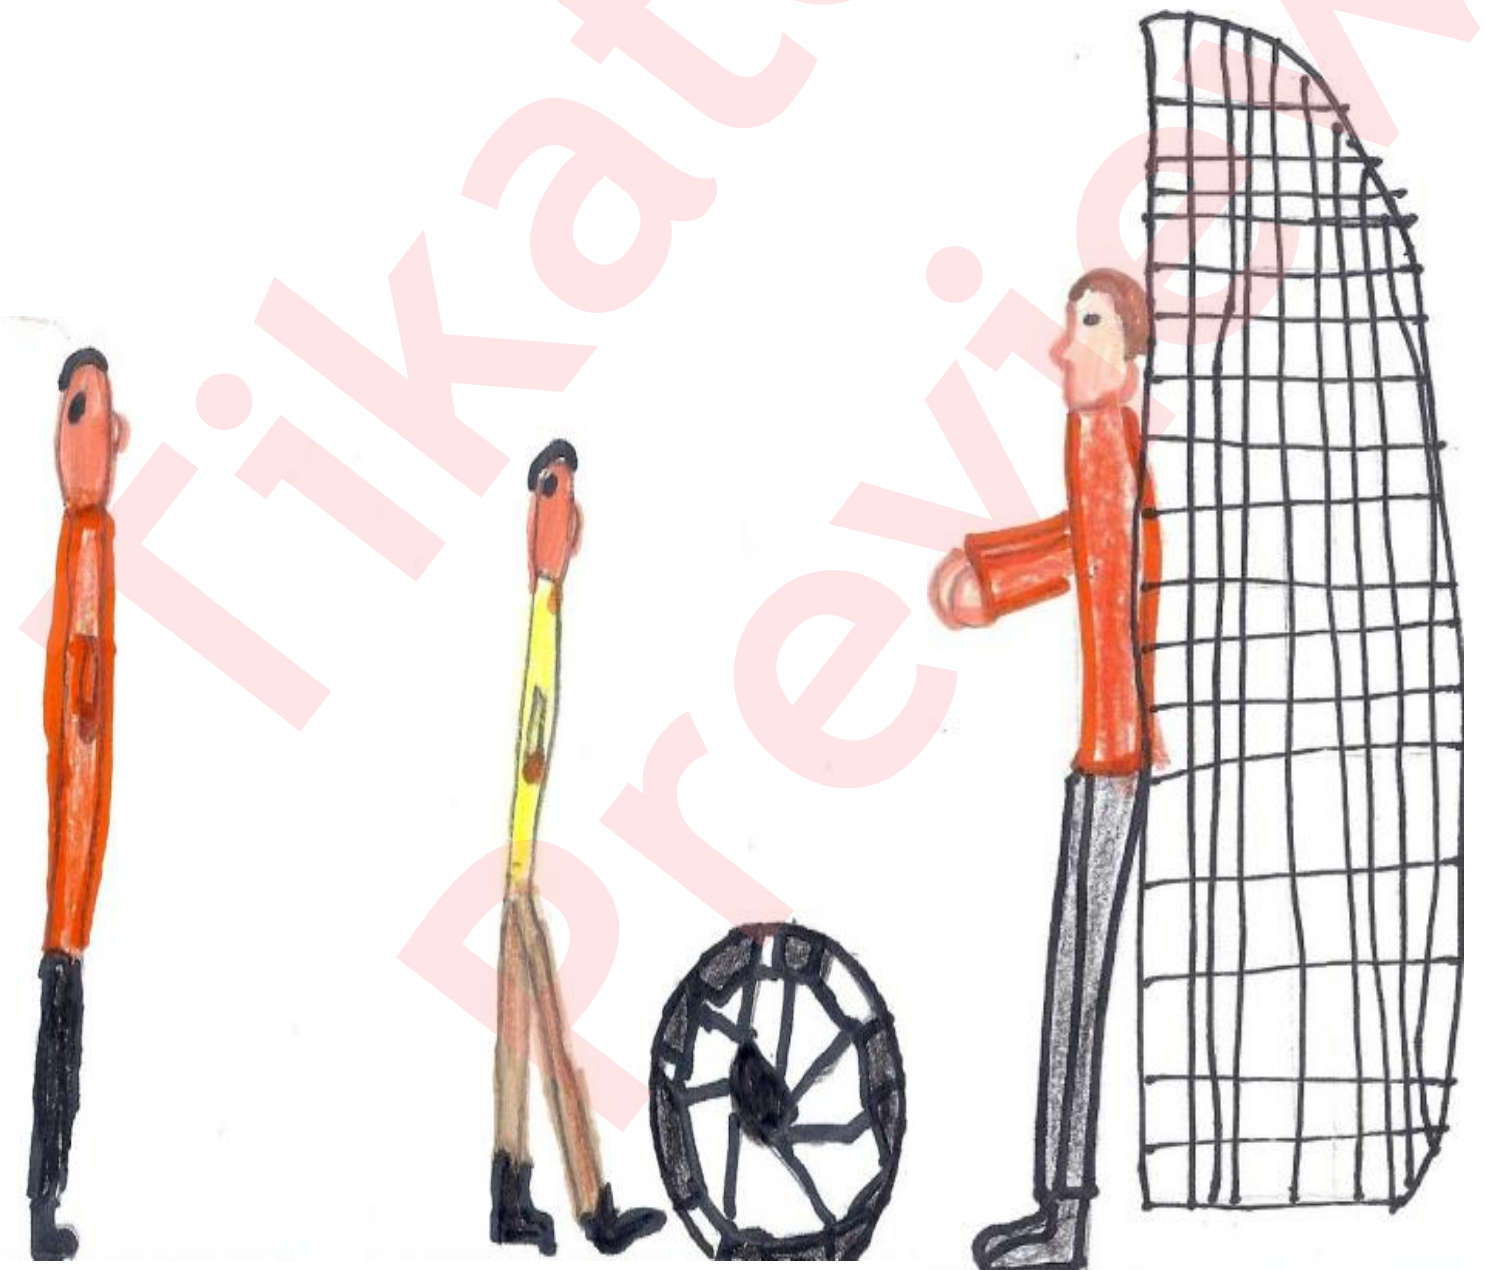

A Tiger pushed the Lion who had the ball and took away the ball and another Tiger would push down the goalie.

The referee would tell the Tiger team coach to advise the team.

The Tiger team coach approached the Tiger team parents for help.

Both the Tiger team coach and the parents arranged a plan with the Lions team. The Lions team would repeat the same things that the Tigers would do to them. This made the Tigers realize how the Lions felt and they decided always to play a fair game.

Always be fair so no one will be hurt.

Also always think fairly so that your actions will always be fair.

Children are flowers.

Children will be even more beautiful flowers when they try to follow these characteristics.

The End

About the Author

Adithya Narayanan Selvakumar is 7 years old. He is called as Adi by his friends and family. He loves his teachers and his teachers love him.

Adi's teachers have molded Adi to be good in academic knowledge and made him understand good habits and good character. His SSE (Sai Spiritual Education) teachers had made him understand the benefits of developing good behavior, good character, Love towards God and human beings. This motivation has made him work towards positive attitude.

Adi is thankful to all his teachers.

